2021 Cascadia Dirt Cup Series Overall Rankings

Who is eligible for series overall points?

Racers who compete in at least 4 CDC races all in the same category will be scored for the series overall points and ranking.

For the E-Bike racers, they must compete in all three E-Bike eligible rounds of the CDC to be considered for overall series points and awards.

How are points calculated?

Best 4 races count toward total points - all races must be in the same race category to qualify. (For E-Bike racers, all 3 e-bike races are counted toward total points and rankings.) Points are awarded based on structure at right; after 35th place, the points reduce by one consecutively all the way down to 50th place for 2 points; all DNF's are awarded 1 point.

If I have a DNF, does that race count?

Yes, if you show up and attempt to race, we count that toward your 4 minimum races, even if you DNF. A DNF earns 1 pt, to ensure that you receive credit to remain in the series overall standing. Ideally, if you complete all five races in the series, you will be able to drop one DNF without it affecting your total points, since points are calculated from your best 4 races in the series.

Why do I have "required" in the Post Canyon Enduro points column?

We currently have three races counted for you, and four races are required to be eligible to stay in the series overall rankings, making the series finale at Post Canyon a mandatory race for you if you wish to be eligible for the 2021 series standings. If you're not currently registered for Post Canyon and wish to stay in the standings, reach out to us and request to go on the waitlist as well as on standby on race day:
camille@racecascadia.com

I can't find my name in the standings, and I've raced at least three rounds.

If you're sure you competed in at least three CDC races to date and they are all in the same race category, reach out and we'll research the race results to determine your status: camille@racecascadia.com

I think there's an error in my points!

If you're missing in the standings, if you are missing points for a race, or you believe there is an error in your points calculation, reach out to camille@racecascadia.com ASAP so we can research your race results and point calculations. The deadline to contest points is Monday, October 12, 2021 at 8pm.
